ABOUT OUR RAILING

All Island Fence and Railing offers a variety of railings in different styles and colors sure to beautify any home while adding security and safety to your deck, porch or stairway.

PVC railings comes in the colonial or traditional spindle. While traditional spindles give a more modern look, the colonial spindle keeps it classic. ALUMINUM RAILING

DURABLE CONSTRUCTION

Our aluminum is strong and built to handle extreme temperatures as well as withstand heat, snow, and rain. Where applicable, a full-length vinyl liner in both upper and lower railings prevents metal-on-metal rattling. And every piece of our aluminum railing is tested to ICC standards.

LOW-MAINTENANCE ALUMINUM

Our aluminum railing is built to last and powder-coated with AAMA 2604 standard coating to ensure that it won't fade or lose its gloss. Unlike steel, wrought iron, or wood, aluminum doesn't require regular painting to prevent rusting or rotting. Customers need only to occasionally clean the railing and balusters with water and detergent, and our aluminum railing will maintain its appearance and function for years.

VERSATILE DESIGN

With so many balusters, colors, trim, and accessories to choose from, the final product really is one-of-a-kind. Our aluminum estate fencing gives customers the ability to match their railing to their surroundings and taste, without having to choose between the estate fencing they want and the estate fencing they can afford.

★★★★★

“Great job!!! They were wonderful and accommodating from the estimate to the installation process. I can not say that enough, I would absolutely recommend them to anyone.”

Debra of Ronkonkoma

“Everything went well with this contractor. The estimator arrived on time and negotiated a fair price for the job on the spot. A second installer came by a few days later to take final measurements and also took a few pictures of the job. On installation day the 2 guys came on time and completed the installation in about 4 hours. They cleaned up nicely after themselves. The railings look great and so far we are very happy with the result!”
